HELLO FRESH

HELLO

BULGUR

This hearty whole grain turns ultra-fluffy when cooked, plus it's a nutritional powerhouse with a variety of vitamins and minerals such as iron and calcium.

SPICE UP YOUR LIFE

If you're as spice-obsessed as we are, you'll love harissa, a North African chili paste. Here, we use harissa powder to infuse bulgur, roasted chickpeas, and hummus with rich, smoky heat. If you're unfamiliar with the ingredient, try adding just a small pinch to your hummus in step 5, then give it a taste. Love it? Add more to your heart's content.

MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, triple the amounts in the 2-person recipe.)

*Chicken is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 165°.

1 PREP

- Adjust rack to top position (top and middle positions for 4 servings) and preheat oven to 425 degrees. Wash and dry produce.
- Peel, quarter, and thinly slice ¾ of the shallot (you'll use the remaining shallot in step 4). Drain and rinse chickpeas; dry thoroughly with paper towels.

- Pat chicken dry with paper towels and season all over with salt and pepper. Heat a drizzle of oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. Add chicken; cook until browned and cooked through, 3-5 minutes per side. Transfer chicken to a cutting board.

4 MAKE SALAD

- While bulgur cooks, trim and halve cucumber lengthwise; slice crosswise into ¼-inch-thick half-moons. Dice tomato. Very thinly slice remaining shallot. Pick and mince fronds from dill.
- In a medium bowl, toss together cucumber, tomato, half the minced dill, half the Greek vinaigrette (you'll use more in the next step), half the feta (save the rest for serving), and remaining shallot. Season with salt and pepper.

2 ROAST SHALLOT & CHICKPEAS

- Toss sliced shallot and chickpeas on a baking sheet with a large drizzle of olive oil, 1 tsp harissa powder (2 tsp for 4 servings), and salt. (You'll use more harissa powder in the next step.) (For 4, divide between 2 sheets; roast on top and middle racks.)
- Roast on top rack until shallot is softened and chickpeas are lightly browned, 18-20 minutes. (It's natural for chickpeas to pop a bit while roasting.)

5 FLUFF & MIX

- Drain any excess water from bulgur; fluff with a fork. Stir in as much remaining Greek vinaigrette as you like. Taste and season with salt and pepper.
- Place hummus in a small bowl. Stir in a pinch of remaining harissa powder. (Taste the hummus and add more harissa powder if you like things spicy.)

3 COOK BULGUR

- Meanwhile, in a small pot, combine bulgur, 1 cup water, ½ tsp harissa powder (you'll use more later), and salt (we used ½ tsp). (For 4 servings, use 2 cups water and 1 tsp harissa powder; we used 1 tsp salt.)
- Bring to a boil, then cover and reduce to a low simmer. Cook until water has absorbed and bulgur is tender, 12-15 minutes.
- Keep covered off heat until ready to serve.

6 SERVE

- Using the back of a spoon, spread hummus on one side of each serving bowl. Divide bulgur between bowls.
- Arrange roasted shallot and chickpeas and cucumber feta salad on top in separate sections. Top with remaining feta. Sprinkle with remaining minced dill if desired and serve.
- Slice chicken crosswise; serve atop bowls.
